THE KRYON TEACHINGS

Channeled by Mario Liani

The Kryon Group is the name Mario Liani uses to describe the loving energy of Kryon, which is not a single entity but rather a group of highly evolved beings of the angelical realms operating as a group — not as individuals — in absolute synchronicity.

Kryon is currently being channeled in several languages by different spokespersons around the world.

Mario Liani is a channel for Kryon in the Spanish language.

FROM YOUR HEART TOWARDS A NEW EARTH

Channeled live on September 12, 2007

(Buenos Aires, Argentina)

Kryon's Voice...

Good evening everyone:

Have you noticed the amount of love that was needed to bring us all here? Have you noticed how this love has - metaphorically speaking - pushed the veil aside? Only love – ours and yours together – has made it possible for this to take place now... for now is Now. For you it is "here," and for the others is "there." Some are listening and others are reading, but all of you understand that there are no borders that can separate the Spiritual Family.

Dear human, we are your Family: we are your father, your mother, your brother and your sister. We are your lover, your teacher... and also your friend. We are everything to you, whether is inside or outside of yourself. Inside or outside? The "out there" is just an illusion. Whatever you believe is outside, it's actually inside...

We have pushed the Veil aside and we are here in this Family reunion like we never have before. So much co-creation was needed! We spoke about it a while ago. Our spokesman expressed it so to the audience (in reference to the words Mario exchanged with the audience right before the channeling session). This co-creation was truly needed in order to meet here again, in this geographical place (Buenos Aires, Argentina). Here we are, together again, reminiscing about other physical, as well as non-physical, moments.

You know who we are, don't you? We are the Kryon Group and Kryon – as we have said before – it is not an entity. Kryon is a higher consciousness group responding to your will, human being, responding to your desires and wishes. And do you know why? Because your wishes are the same as ours, because you and I are One.

I am Kryon and I am at the service of humanity.

Here I am again, enjoying this wonderful moment we have all facilitated. And do you know why I am addressing you? Because you need to hear me directly and informally; you are somewhat tired of listening to me say "you" and "us"... You would now like to hear a more personal message, wouldn't you?

Learning To Listen With the Heart

Dear human, today's message is for you: the one listening, the one reading this now. We know you are learning to "listen" with the heart, for you know that the words are not as important as the feelings you are experiencing now. Feel! Feel your heart! Feel us caressing your soul! Feel us – as we've said so many times before – washing your feet.

There is nothing we enjoy better than washing your feet, for in doing so we literally place ourselves at your feet... Ah, it is a pleasure to be at your feet! It is the highest tribute we can pay to you, because it took courage to renounce your divinity and come here to experience duality! So, here we are at your feet, reminding you who you are and why you are here.

It was your decision to be here, you entered into a contract. You accepted to be here, and you know very well that it was not done grudgingly. On the contrary, human, you were jubilant and could hardly wait for the time to face again those with whom you had unresolved matters. And so many things left unresolved! And you having to remember all this by yourself! By yourself? No. I, too, know how many things you left unresolved... and I also know how many you have already resolved, and how many mill around in your human head that you wish you could resolve...that is why you are here, isn't that the truth?

We know everything about you, dear angel disguised as human in service! We know your name, we know your vibration, and we see all your colors... Did you know that you also bring your colors to your earthly existence? And your rainbow of colors is displayed before us, in complete ecstasy and full magnificence.

You are so integrated into this experience, human, that you are listening with the heart, not with your heart, but with the heart of this soul family that has decided to be here and now... And you are here because you have come to receive consolation and the love from home that you miss so much and long for every day, the home you think about when you go to sleep, the home you dream about every night, and the space you visualize during your meditations.

Feel safe, you are home. All of us here love you. You do not have to worry. This is your home, sweet home. Simply enjoy it. Savor this moment you signed on for through your multidimensional being... the one who lives with you in other dimensions, the one that "piece by piece" is integrating with you... the one with whom you will reunite tomorrow... And, when is tomorrow? Maybe this is tomorrow, for time is an illusion, it does not exist.

Dear, try to visualize yourself already reunited and integrated with your multidimensional pieces, for this will make you feel more complete than ever and you will feel the true purpose of this reunion. Do you know what that is? The purpose is simply to FEEL. Just feel! There is nothing to think about, there is nothing to process, is all about FEELING.

Kryon's voice will rock you... Do you feel how it rocks you and transports you? Transport yourself with Kryon to the depth of your being. Look at yourself! Observe your own face and see who you really are. You won't have to try too hard. Look at that face! That face is you. It is made of those pieces that shape your evolutionary experience, that which you have searched for and continue to search in all the spheres and dimensions... those experiences that shape you and make you what you are: a unique piece!

Human, you are unique in your originality and in your singularity! Creation lives and manifests in you. You are the Creation and the purpose of Being, because the timeless being has to express Itself through you. There is no other way to look at it. All you have done, all you have achieved, all you have treasured and all that has shaped you is perfect. Look at yourself! I urge to look at yourself! Observe yourself, but not with your physical eyes...

Feel!

Words and thoughts are worthless at this moment. Your feelings are the only thing that counts. Connect with those feelings and know that you are unique, but you are also part of the multiplicity of Being, made up not only of you – your essence – but also of others, others that are cells of Creation, like you. All Creation is contained in you, and without you, Creation would not be complete. You are playing the main role in this experience taking place now. Without you, there would be no experience (referring to the physical reunion in Buenos Aires).

Let Us Be One

As we said through our spokesman before, the being seated to your left, the one to your right, the one in front of you and the one behind, everyone, absolutely everyone here with you now is necessary to this experience. Everyone here entered into a contract so that we can all – you and I – simply become ONE.

Dear human, the purpose of this meeting today is to become ONE. I know, dear, that this is a difficult concept. Our spokesman has trouble understanding this concept, too. Your experience in duality does not allow you to process it properly.

But now you have the opportunity to feel that all of us – all the ones who are you and all the ones who are I – are, in fact, included in that big sphere we visualized together (in reference to the previous visualization and meditation). The purpose of this Family reunion is to realize that we cannot be separate, that it is necessary that we, together, have an experience from the heart.

When we spoke of the metaphoric veil being pushed aside to reveal an opening towards the dimensional threshold, we were not actually speaking of a thin veil of transparent material, which – as we said in our past meeting (Buenos Aires, April 12th, 2007) – is just a metaphor.

When our metaphoric veil was pushed aside to reveal the dimensional opening, our hearts opened in unison, and the opening of that threshold traced a path to the heart.

We have the opportunity during this meeting to open a path to the heart. You are at this moment beginning to learn how to open your heart. You, who generally does not open your heart to life, who closes up to feelings, who does not show what you feel and who does not open up to others for fear of being emotionally invaded... Tell me, how did it happen? Did it involve effort? Was it difficult?

Yes, we know that you are afraid to let others see your true feelings, but dear, your essence and your truth are contained in the expression of your feelings, what is the sense in hiding them?

Partly, our exercise for today is this: TO FEEL

You are in this big room surrounded by people who have attained oneness with you and you with them. This was possible because all the people here have opened up their hearts the same way as you. Do you understand the lesson here? Feel, receive and surrender.

In the act of giving there is an act of receiving. The energy moves both ways. It is not possible — we assure you — to give without receiving. When you are ready to give, you open the door to receive. This applies to all facets of your life. We know you had only forgotten and this is natural. We know you have forgotten about that and so many other things, but it doesn't matter! Part of your mission here and now is to remember what your plans are for your evolution!

Human, try to be aware that you are here in this dimensional plane to support all type of experiences associated with the material essence of this plane. Try harder, take some risks, create, materialize, feel, live...you cannot escape these experiences because you chose them yourself. That is why you are here! You can't hide thinking that if you hide you will avoid certain experiences. If you hide and try to avoid experiences, you will not have that for which you paid such a high price!

You know, dear, we really know what it took for you to be here. It requires a lot of courage to give up your angelical being in favor of a human experience. Do you know how many wanted to be here now, in your place? Do you know how many? You have no idea! There is an endless line of souls that wish to come back here to learn, to complete their learning and do it better each time. It is truly a challenge! When you go back and regain your essence, you will remember just how challenging your experience was or is.

I can almost hear you: "Hey, Kryon, wait... there is so much I still have to do! I want to go back. I can't wait to go back, because I know that I would not make the same mistakes again, and that I would do everything better." Of course, I know it! You know it! Everyone says the same thing.

What is the difference in each individual's experience? The difference is that each one of you has something to learn, and at the same time, this is linked to his other self, his other "I," his other "you." Before you know it, your experience with others is related to the experiences others have with you. It is about all of the experiences converging in the Totality of Being.

Your being is not only unique: it is One with All There Is. This makes you Divine, original and allows you to possess the essence you call God. Who is God? God is you, dear human. God is only a word to describe the experience of the being who has renounced his divinity in order to experience humanity, integrate it in his essence and take the experience back to the original source. Thus the original source nourishes and grows. God - all of us - grows bigger and wiser. Reclaiming the integration of your essence simply means reclaiming your multidimensional being in all your experiences. Do not be afraid to be who you are.

Transmuting Your Human Experience

Dear, we know you question yourself often: "Kryon, why do I have this or that fault? Why is my relationship with others so difficult? Why am I a pushover? Why do I need to be accepted? Why am I such a glutton? Why do I have such a big ego?" Because that is YOU! You accepted to return to improve your human essence. There is no other way to do it. It is not about struggling with "your faults," is about being aware of what limits you, this will allow you to experience it more consciously, this awareness will help you heal it and transcend it.

We tell you that you are healing at different levels, levels you never imagined! You have no idea, oh, human angel, of what you are capable of! If only you knew the full extent of your power - and we have told you more than once - if you only knew how creative and powerful you are, if only you knew that you can do anything...

We are here, kneeling in front of you, washing your feet, because with this gesture we acknowledge your full magnificence, dear human angel. So, acknowledge yourself, and when you have done this, you will know what we mean. When are you going to realize it? When you look into the eyes of the person next to you and acknowledge him as being part of you, when you look into his eyes and feel that it is you looking back... when you touch his skin and feel you are caressing yourself, you will then know that the lesson is just beginning!

Ah, did you think I would tell you that the lesson ends here? No, dear, no. This never ends. The lessons are infinite, because we are infinite, we are all immortal. This is just beginning and it never ends.

Do you remember ever seeing in one of your movies - one of those "sci-fi" movies - a character that was immortal? In his dialogue, the character claims to be bored with immortality, "Oh, how boring immortality is! I have outlived everyone in every period I ever lived. Everyone I love eventually dies, and I feel as if my long life is nothing more than a series of loses."

Do you know what? Is not like that! You will never be bored with immortality, because your immortality is your challenge to grow, which helps the Timeless Being grow, the group consciousness we all are. Besides, all your soulmates and travel companions will always be with you, because they are your family. Remember that we are all ONE and we will always be together, helping each other.

As our spokesman said a while ago (during the conference before the channeling session), this group experience - this gathering of feelings and sensations - was triggered by your presence. Your presence is essential to us and this is happening now because you are here.

Healing Is a Natural State

You came to this family reunion looking for information and to hear my words of consolation. You came looking for healing. What do you need to heal, dear human? Is it your physical body that worries you? There are many people who have a great desire to heal in this gathering.

You, who would like to be healed, let me tell you something: you area already healed! You don't have to worry. That is already resolved. Healing is in your "assets" column of your accounting book. All the potentials of your healing that you desire so much are in your now. That which you think "will" happen has already happened, because is part of your present experience. Dear human, take home the concept that you don't need to worry about your physical body. Healing does not include the word "worry." The word "healing" implicitly contains the concept of "healed," so you are healed. You don't have to worry about healing; you simply have to be healthy!

We have spoken of both, the emotional and the spiritual part of your search that has to do with the need to learn something that you may not want to learn, because you think is something difficult to integrate in your human experience. Surrender. Simply surrender and accept that, as a being having a human experience, you need to properly focus on what you fear. The more you fear it, the more you need to face it, dear. If you run away from it and don't face it, you will not assimilate it and it will not become part of your awareness, therefore, it will not be part of you and you will not take it as an experience that will contribute to the healing of your other multidimensional aspects.

The subject of this Family reunion is healing on all levels. Our spokesman didn't know what the subject was. We think is funny, because he asks about it and he thinks he should speak about this or that... but, as he told you, there is no way of knowing until the moment is here and not before the Soul Group has gathered. Why are we speaking of healing? Because the group gathered here is ASKING for healing. This group needs to hear words of encouragement about their own healing. Healing is a big worry, we already told you, stop worrying, human.

Potentials of the Transition For 2007

Ah, your blessed worries... Worry it's been in the air about what could happen in a year of transition like 2007. There is nothing to worry about, dear. As our spokesman said (during the conference before the channeling session), numbers, in their essence, are symbols that can be translated into dimensional vibrations that could characterize immediate effects at a terrestrial level (in reference to a question asked by an attendee about the potential of the "9" of the year 2007).

However, at this moment, this should be the least of your worries. What is really important is the core of the message. The essence of the message is that humanity - you - together with us, your guides, are moving forward towards a change of paradigm, towards a new transition during which will be necessary to leave old patterns behind and adopt new models.

The new models humanity will adopt are based on reciprocal patterns of cooperation and a humanitarian spirit. In order for humankind to recover the humanitarian spirit it once had, it has to go through a series of transitory filters. Therefore, it is necessary for the period of transition to occur during these times you live in, but not in the dramatic way you may think is going to happen.

The time of transition it's about a process of purification. Who should be purged? Everyone, dear! When we say "everyone" we are talking about you, all of you, and us - as your guides - and obviously your beloved Mother Earth. You know very well that humanity has not cared for Mother Earth. The planet needs to purge through its own adjustments at a different wavelength, which is already happening in a very natural way. There is no reason to be alarmed. Remember that all the prophecies about catastrophes are a thing of the past. We have said it many times through different spokesmen: the Apocalypse does not exist, is just part of an old book written by you as a human group. Who else could have written the book but you? This book is not titled Apocalypse any more, is now titled "The Rebirth of a New Earth."

What is a rebirth? Have you ever witnessed a birth? For a birth to happen there must be a pregnancy first, and the pregnancy is the readjustment of an energy that gestates, grows and accommodates itself in the mother's womb. This energy seeks a channel to go through and to alleviate the pressure contained in the womb until the time of birth.

Consequently, the rebirth of humankind calls for some necessary adjustments and re-accommodation in the womb of Mother Earth... once the birth has taken place; we will have a new infant in our hands. What do you do with a new infant? You give it love and warmth, care and protection.

This New Earth, the new humanity that will birth soon, is going to need a lot of love. This new infant - who it's you, humans, in new clothing - will need the maximum amount of love possible. Where is this love coming from, dear? From yourselves! You will learn to show it through all the readjustments and transitions you have to experience, and it will help you understand, forgive, and accept the inevitable and to harmoniously flow towards what will emerge after the conclusion. To leave behind means to begin. Therefore, you first need to learn to leave behind. If you can accept it, then you can begin again. This message was addressed to you as a human race and as individuals.

Human, I am still talking to you. Accept the change taking place in your life! Accept that which seems to be ending, in doing so you will bring about the best of transitions. There can be no transition if there is resistance to that ending that you don't want to leave behind. A transition must flow. Just as it must flow from Mother Earth, you must also compromise in your personal area so that you all can evolve toward the new humanity you wish for.

There is a benchmark set for the year 2012. It is only a symbol, dear! 2012 will be a moment of change, a moving back and forth between two dimensional worlds, a dual experience. There is still time before you live that experience! You will have to wait for the energetic adjustment. Don't worry about it now. Furthermore, don't even use the word "worry." Get busy with the day to day business, live your now and learn to live the experiences you would otherwise want to reject, so that you don't have to be forced to relive them.

Know, dear humans, that this process of transition not only concerns you, it also concerns us. Aren't we planning how this process of transition is going to go? Do you perhaps think that you are fully responsible? Not really, but you do have a great deal of responsibility, because, as humanity, you shall reap what you sow.

It is now! There is no time to wait for tomorrow. Whatever you wanted to do, human, do it now! We portend that if you do it now, your potentials for experimentation will accelerate as well as your ascension process. Why? Because you will not be trying to avoid the potential for learning that you planned for yourself.

Let Us Review the "Neutral Implant" Issue

Let me tell you something else, since the Kryon Group began to manifest, we have spoken about the suggestion that you accept what we once called the "neutral implant." This suggestion was misunderstood and incorrectly processed. Some understood but others did not. A matrix of fear generated around the issue: "Kryon, what will happen to me if I ask for the implant? What is going to happen to my life? It seems as if everything accelerates and comes crashing down on me." From different sources began to emerge different theories that you had to request the implant through a ritual, during which you would mechanically recite a request for so many days during this or that lunar phase, etc.

No, dear, none of that! You, as humanity, already have the implant! From the moment of the Harmonic Convergence, you accepted the challenge to intensely face all the necessary experiences to accelerate your evolutionary process as a human race. When you came together as a group, you made it possible for a powerful multiplying effect to generate, during which more and more humans are unconsciously accepting that is necessary to evolve spiritually. Why unconsciously? Because not everyone, not all of you, had felt the need to "declare" that you will accept the commitment.

Do you know who feel the need to declare that commitment? Those who fear, those who feel the need to do it as if it were a regulated process, those who need to feel at ease through the performing of rituals, those who feel they should worry about what will happen beforehand. Instead, many of you have not even requested it. Do you know why? Because you were already working with it; because you already said YES through your intent. Right at the moment you manifested your intention to accept the best earthly experiences in order to gain the best spiritual evolution possible. At that moment - without having to utter the words "I accept the implant" - you set your path of no return.

The "neutral implant" is a word that has been badly misunderstood, particularly at a linguistic level, due to its connotation. You relate it to something that could suddenly be inserted in your body, against the will of the human who requested it. What is a neutral implant? It represents the commitment of the human being to accept evolutionary responsibility for each one of his acts, being spiritually conscious of what he does and how he lives his life, understanding that each one of his earthly acts could have an evolutionary implication that may go beyond his own expectations and imagination, not only for him but also for the people who may be involved.

So, this is what it means to accept the implant. It means to become consciously aware. This is something many of you have done thousands of times, particularly when you go to sleep, moments before you close your eyes you repeat in your mind, "Father Creator, why did I do this or that today? Why did I make such an obvious mistake? I want to be better! God, I promise to become a better human being." In a few words, you do a conscious examination of the deeds of that day and - consciously or unconsciously - you analyze yourself, and tell yourself whether you did right or wrong, and finally, you promise that part of God who resides within you that you wish to become a better human.

To accept the implant simply means to acknowledge the importance of being spiritually conscious. Whenever a person acknowledges his divine origin and becomes spiritually conscious, his earthly evolution accelerates. Does this mean that this person will have to face powerful processes? Not necessarily! It only means that the lessons the person needs in order to learn something relevant to his mission in life, will unfold more quickly and intensely. What does an enlightened being do? He understands, accepts and blesses the opportunity to experience an accelerated process, in such a way that he can appreciate the lessons that these intense experiences are offering, so that he can later look back and see it just as something that was been left behind, something that brought about his spiritual rebirth.

After a human being has lived through the process called "implant" - previously described - he will feel reborn. To be born again means that this human being will incorporate other parts of his multidimensional being, which are more highly evolved, (higher than the ones he had before) in order to "help" him accomplish his mission. This process is somehow similar to the concept you may have read about of certain entities - called "walk-ins" in the English language - who substitutes the consciousness of the being that lends his physical body so that another being can accomplish a higher mission.

Humanity In The Process of Transition

In brief, after the cleansing process humanity is currently undergoing, the human being will incorporate into his being new interdimensional aspects of a greater evolutionary level than the one he had before. In this way, he will continue being the same human being, but with a greater vision of his understanding of his mission in life.

Going back to the subject of transition for this planet, with everything we have already said, you can understand that humanity - after facing the necessary purging process and transition - will be born again. What will this rebirth be like, dear? As if humanity as a whole had asked for the neutral implant!

After this process, humanity will be born again to a higher spiritual level; it will incorporate into a group of higher collective consciousness that will have the ability to connect with Mother Earth, effectively helping humanity to walk hand in hand with the planet.

Please, do not see these processes of change and transition as something negative. See them as something necessary so that you - after experiences cleansing and transmutation - can have access to that better world you long for.

The transition experience you may have will be unique for each one of you. The fact that humanity will have a collective experience does not necessarily mean that you all will have an identical experience. What some of you may experience as a drama, it could be a blessing to others. Therefore, each one will know how to connect with his own experience, live it, transcend it and heal it.

Towards a New Earth

The dream of a better world is in your mind, but more importantly, it's in your heart... and we now return to the subject of the heart that characterized the beginning of our message.

When you open your hearts and connect with the unity of your being and realized that you are One with All There Is, you will at that moment understand that the new humanity is about to be born, and you will be seeing yourselves as part of the New Earth, where millions of new infants of a higher spiritual level will see the light of a new dawn.

Dear, I began this message speaking to you individually in an ordinary way, speaking to your heart. We now conclude this day by speaking to you as humanity.

You are the humanity of the New Earth. You are the seed of the new world you wish to experience. The outcome of your wishes rests in your hands. Don't put off until tomorrow what you can do today. It may seem redundant, but now is when you need to be aware of your own process. Do not forget that your own process is also a collective process. If you sign on for the collective process, you will be the greatest protagonist of a humanity that will have generated a new world, the world in which you will live your eternal now... because this never ends! Kryon assures you of it.

Kryon is always here with you because Kryon is the voice of your wishes, and you are here making it possible for this message to respond to your wishes and it has been carried out on your terms.

Our Family reunion is about to conclude. It is such joy to meet with you in this way. Your intention and adequate co-creation has made it possible for us to have a true heart and soul communion. We regret having to say good-bye, but we always emphasize that in interdimensionality there are no good-byes. We are always here with you, because we are One and that is why we reside in your heart.

Go in peace, rest and process the experience. When you close your eyes tonight, remember that you were here with the Family, that you had a new opportunity to remember who you really are and that your powerful intention is the only tool you need to restore the peace you yearn for in your life.

Our loving blessings,

Kryon
