THE KRYON TEACHINGS

Channeled by Mario Liani

The Kryon Group is the name Mario Liani uses to describe the loving energy of Kryon, which is not a single entity but rather a group of highly evolved beings of the angelical realms operating as a group — not as individuals — in absolute synchronicity.

Kryon is currently being channeled in several languages by different spokespersons around the world.

Mario Liani is a channel for Kryon in the Spanish language.

THE PURPOSE OF BEING AS A PATH TO MASTERY

Channeled live on October 13, 2007

(Caracas, Venezuela)

It is appropriate to mention that the following text is not an exact and literal transcription of the live channeling; the spoken word possesses an energetic quality that cannot be captured with the written Word. In virtue of this, Mario Liani has channeled Kryon once more in order to make the necessary adjustments so that the text is coherent and the message can be processed by the reader who was not present at the live event.

Kryon's voice:

Oh, the veil has been pushed aside in Venezuela.

Finally, the metaphoric veil has been pushed aside in Venezuela. It's been a long time coming, hasn't it? A great deal of co-creation was needed to bring more than four hundred souls together tonight to come hear your own message! Your own message? Of course! Our spokesman told you a while ago (referring to Mario's words before the channeling session). Do you know who you are? You are the ones who put a voice to your own desires, who put a voice to your own wishes... so that Spirit can transmit it back to you!

What a paradigm, humans... how funny you are! You, who have all the answers within, need to hear them aloud through another voice!

Very well, here we are. We have fulfilled our promise. We have come. Do you know who we are? We are a consciousness group singing to the choir of your desires, we are a group of entities aligned with your truth and singing in unison through the voice of Spirit. Spirit gave us a name. Our name simply comprises and reflects the energy of what you wish to hear today.

I am Kryon and I am in service to humanity

How much love! How much love is felt in this room, dear human... How much love... It is the right amount of love needed to help us push aside that metaphoric veil of which we have spoken so much. Remember that the veil is a metaphor. There really is no veil. It looks as if we are separated, but we are not. Though it was necessary to create a dimensional opening – so that we could be here with you now – that opening is only a metaphoric reference, because, we, dear humans, are never separated from you. Never! You and we live in different stations and at different levels. Don't ever think, not even for an instant, that we leave you alone.

My dear human, this is a night to rejoice and for many reasons; mainly because you have torn down a paradigm and have come to find yourselves. Who would have thought?

Humans meeting themselves

"What do you mean, Kryon? I, the human, come to meet myself?"

Very simple: you, in your humanity, find it difficult to understand that you are a tiny part of a collection of pieces, which literally exist in different levels or different dimensions. Whenever you go from one of your multidimensional parts to another, you are actually meeting yourself under different vibrations. In brief, you came today to listen to yourself.

"That's incredible! Explain that better, Kryon"

As our spokesman told you, we represent the voice of your spiritual desires. We "are you," but in different garments. You and I are ONE. We both are the two sides of the same experience. Whenever you come – on a night like this – to listen to the words of Kryon, you actually come to hear what you had wanted to hear for a long time. At some point, you launched a petition to the Universe and that petition today has been answered by a part of yourselves who exist in a different level. That part of you is represented by us... and we are Kryon.

Unifying perceptions

The name Kryon is the name representing the human and divine experience in a single content. You humans perceive the experience in one way and we perceive it another. What needs to be done then? Unify perceptions. And that is why these meetings take place, where you humans and we essences decide to unify our perceptions. Tonight is one of those nights when we decided to meet to unify our perceptions...

In your perception this is a very unique, special, divine and sacred moment, because you have decided to walk towards that part of yourself that is not usually very accessible to your experience. At that moment, when you activated – personally – the intention to be here, what you really did was to ratify a previous agreement you had with many other souls, who, like you, decided to be here physically in this experience.

Reuniting with your Soul Group

You decided that this would be the evening for reunions. That is why we so frequently state that these reunions are true meetings with the Spiritual Family. All of you are Family, dear one! Do not forget that those to your left and those to your right are people who in other life expressions may have shared moments with you. Do not forget that you are part of a "Soul Group." There are hierarchies of you in different places, not only in this dimension. Therefore, today is a day of a reunion between this Soul Group and those hierarchies. Dear, bless this experience because – as our spokesman said a few moments ago – the purpose of being here is not only to have a personal experience but to remember and feel who you are and why you are here.

Human: do you know why you are HERE? "Kryon, what are you saying? What are you talking about? Where is here?"

Oh, dear one... Is it here... in this room? Here... in this city? Here... in this country? Here... in this life?

(Kryon smiles) Why are you here? It's all of it. Maybe you think that one thing has nothing to do with the other... But the fact is that your being here in this room, in this city, in this country and in this life... is all connected! Dear, there is a purpose for everything... and there is a purpose for the presence of all these souls attentively listening to their own message, the message you asked of Spirit through your own Higher Self.

"Oh, Spirit," you said on some night, "Grant me the privilege to be there, because I want to listen to your Voice. God has never spoken to me; I have never heard him speak. Now I want to listen to him. Could an experience like this really draw the voice of God to me?"

Yes, human: it draws it to you. But it is not the God you are thinking about. It is not the God speaking as an entity outside of you. God is not something outside of yourself, is not something unreachable.

You are the experience of God who is ONE with you

We tell you that God is you, because God is the name you gave your human experience as a divine being, as a Human Angel who momentarily renounced his divinity to come here to learn to be better, accumulating experiences to be entered into the "credit" column of the ledger... which is not really "your book" but the "Book of Humanity."

Whenever you enter something in the "credit" column, God – who represents all possible experiences – rejoices in himself, making it possible for the experience of Being to become larger. Your experience is truly the experience God is having – through you – with all humanity. God exists through you, human. God is ONE with you and with me.

The purpose is You

Who are we? We are who you want us to be. You wanted to BE, didn't you? Then YOU ARE. You do not have to settle for the dream. You ARE. And today you are here because YOU ARE. And what are you? You are part of the whole experience that could not happen without you. We have said it time and time again...

Oh, dear human, do not settle for the dream! You ARE. And if you are, take the consciousness of BEING in your hands and recreate it here in your dimension. Have more faith in yourself and your possibilities. Believe that your purpose for being is important. Whatever you came here to do, nobody else can do for you. What you came here to do cannot be replaced, mainly because "the purpose is you." Without you, there is no purpose. Therefore, we are going to review your purpose.

What is your life's purpose, my dear human? Have you thought about it? Try to remember. You may bring it back into your memory. That purpose, my dear human is to remember who YOU ARE, what your divine essence is, the essence that will allow you to recreate Spirit in your human experience.

Are you a Master?

You are here to exalt the human experience and your contribution to this experience is unique and unrivalled. Your contribution is so very important that without it there would be no experience for others... Your contribution entwines with others and the weaving of each other's contribution is what builds the experience of humanity, which is unique... because each one of you is unique! The key resides in your uniqueness. That is why there are no two people alike in this world, there could not be, not in this one or any other. Because each one of you is perfect and special, and that singularity is what allows each one of you to be an artist or a genius, or for each one of you to be a MASTER.

Masters! How many masters are there here? This room is full of masters. And who becomes a master? Those who have achieved their mastery in the University of Life? Not necessarily... The masters are MASTERS because they have recognized their own mastery. No one can give you the title of master, my dear human. Only you can bestow this title on yourself, because when you decide you want to be a master, you take the development of your mastery into your own hands, which you amplify when you teach others what being a master is all about. What is to be a master? It's to have absolute control of the purpose of being, is to have absolute knowledge that you are here to accomplish a mission with yourself and with others.

"Kryon, why do I have to be a master to others? Why? It's easier to have someone else for a master! I don't want to be master, Kryon, it's too much responsibility. Why does life not give me a master who tells me what to do?" That is not the purpose of your experience, dear human. You came here to become aware, to open your eyes and perceive WHO YOU REALLY ARE. Nobody should tell you that. Nobody should tell you ever who or what you are or who or what you no longer are.

Self-worth as a path to the Mastery of Being

Oh, we are entering a minefield: the subject of self-worth. Why do we speak about self-worth, dear? Because the development of self-worth is the path to the Mastery of Being. If you have self-worth, you have already paved the way to your own mastery. Therefore, it is advisable to try to find self-realization in order to find your own self-worth.

My dear, self-worth is earned. No one will hand it to you on a silver platter. That is not a quality you receive on a silver platter. It's a quality that the human being earns life after life, exercise after exercise, and experience after experience. Every time you meet an experience head on, you gain a little more self-worth.

Maybe the majority of you present in this room should tell yourself the following: "I have spent all my life searching for my own self-worth. I think Kryon is right. It is true, all my life I have looked for recognition, but it goes beyond that, I have been trying to convince myself that I can, that I AM..."

My dear, what are you waiting for? Why are we telling you this? Why do you need to hear it tonight? Because there are masters in this room who know they are masters. However, some doubt their own mastery. And some others don't even know they could be masters... but they would be if they understood that, YES, they can be masters...

Human, listen to what we are telling you: the potential of the Mastery of Being rests in you, in your inventory of possibilities, in the "credit" column of your general ledger. You only need to look at yourself to realize it. It's not about looking in the mirror. It is about looking into the soul. Look at your soul and ask yourself: What do I want? What do I long for? What do I need in order to feel realized?

You want to feel realized, but you feel that there is something that's keeping you from it. That something is what you fear the most. It is represented by a certain way of being, a behavioral trait that controls you, or that fear or belief that makes you delay what your being knows will have to face. It may tell you something like this: "No, I won't do it today. I will do it tomorrow. Not now, maybe next year. Don't ask me to do that because I can't, I'm not capable of doing it. Ask me for anything else but not that."

Who are your Masters?

Oh, my beloved human being, how easy it would be if you were asked for anything except for that which you don't wish to do, right? But if that other being who is next to you and who shares your life asks you to do exactly that you don't want to do... why do you think he is asking? Because he is a master who has come to help you regain your own mastery. Part of the mission of this being is to help you open your eyes to what you don't perceive as your own obstacle to the realization of your Mastery of Being.

My dear, open your eyes and see all the masters life has placed around you. Ask yourself why are those masters "this way" with you? Maybe they have brought out "the worst and the best" in you. Do you know something? The best and the worst walk side by side, living next to each other, and they are two versions of the same thing. In the best, you find all the best in you, what you do best. In the worst in you, you find what keeps you from being even better, what keeps you from achieving what you want so much.

The Mastery of Being – one of the subjects of this meeting – has to do with the acknowledgement of who you are and it is related to your self-worth. We feel and know that in this room there are people who have difficulties with self-worth, because they need crutches or something to lean on in order to walk.

Get rid of your crutches!

That crutch can be anything: a person, a friendly word, a ritual, a prayer, an outfit, a talisman, anything! Get rid of your crutches, dear human! Observe your crutches and ask yourself if you need to rely on them for the rest of your life. Your crutches are keeping you from achieving your own mastery. From the bottom of our heart we recommend: look at your crutches and find the way to get rid of them. Ask yourself what would happen if at a determined moment you didn't have those crutches any more. What would you do? How would you get on without them?

Have you tried – even for a day – throwing your crutches away and consider the possibility of fending for yourself without them? Don't you think that life will ask you to become creative and come up with the most brilliant solutions? That's what it's all about, dear: that you achieve your Mastery of Being through the tearing down of paradigms.

As we said, there are masters here. Some of you exercise your mastery through the spiritual, others through their professions or in different ways. It makes no difference. All of you are masters because others are depending on the example you give to realize that they, too, can walk without crutches.

In this room there is a beautiful representation of the different tendencies: spiritual and non-spiritual. We are pleased to have been able to summon such diversity of souls with one thing in common: you are here and you represent the Spiritual Family. Not only you represent your own lineage but you also represent the lineage of your city and your country (Venezuela).

The lineage of your country

You, dear human, represent your country. This is the first time Kryon speaks here, in your country. Our spokesman had to channel outside his country first; he didn't understand why it had to be that way. He asked himself why. Oh, my dear spokesman, here is the answer: because we needed you to be better prepared in order to lend a voice to the wishes of your country, the longings of your people and of those who want to hear about their Soul Group and their country.

You came here, masters, with a desire and a concern to hear news of your country. You are all concerned about your country. Oh, dear, here is the base of tonight's theme. There is much concern; perhaps you have forgotten something very important. "Who" is your country? "Country" is an abstract word. It's a geographical reference, a place on a map with an outline showing shores, peaks, valleys and artificial borders created by men.

Integrating the Soul Group

Beyond that, the word "country" represents a Soul Group, a group of consciousness who came to this particular geographical area to have a human experience, to feed from it and plant the seed so that others - their own descendants or themselves as their own descendants - can return time and time again to their country to generate new challenges and to find a new purpose of Being.

Today's journey is about your own purpose and also the collective purpose. What is happening in this country? What is happening with the Soul Group of this country? Why is there so much concern for the country? When you worry about your country, you worry about yourselves. Where does the worrying come from? It comes from you. You seem out of sorts. You don't seem to be comfortable with what is happening around you. Why? What is happening? Who generated "this?" Whose fault is it?

Observe that we are not saying that "this" doesn't have a name, nor are we saying that "this" is good or bad. We are merely wondering about the origin of your uneasiness.

"This" has two versions, two opposite versions: there is the version for some of you that "this" is something "very good"... and for others "this" is something "very bad." Is it "good" or is it "bad?" And here we go again with the usual dialectic you already know... Nothing is good or bad. It simply "IS."

The collective contract of a Country

This IS and is happening because it is about your experience, the one you contracted as a Soul Group. It's not an individual thing; it does not have someone's name on it. It is a matter of collective consciousness. The present collective consciousness of your country decided to have an experience. The collective decided that the situation in your Country had reached a point where it was necessary to turn the experience around, so that the collective could learn something different.

In short, dear human, because of the previous experience, you learned and perfected "something" different, you were experts of "the opposite." Remember - as you say - experience makes the difference... we know that you could have never imagined an experience such as this. It would not be a true experience if you didn't live it as such. And that's what your life path is about, dear human being: you accepted to come here to have an experience, not to escape from it.

The subject we are dealing with is not an individual subject. It is a collective subject about the Soul Group of this geographical area who decided to have an experience about freedom, free will, self-worth and the Mastery of Being.

Do you know why we touched on all those subjects before we got to the subject you wanted to hear about tonight? Oh, we knew you wanted to hear about this subject, but we could not approach it cold, not without first speaking of the individual human experience in search of his own mastery.

Have you delegated your actions to others?

Masters present in this room, how are you ever going to achieve the Mastery of Being if you don't have awareness of what free will, self-worth and freedom are all about? Your Soul Group is worried about the concept of freedom, but, through you, human, we pose this question to your Soul Group: What do you know about freedom? Have you ever been free? Have you developed your free will, or, on the contrary, have you allowed others to choose your own experiences?

What is the difference - we ask you - between allowing "someone" to choose some of your experiences and having "others" decide for you? Is it not the same? You gave your permission to "those" and now you give your permission to "these" so that they can decide for you...

Your concepts of freedom, free will and self-worth – that you now defend with your Soul Group – where were they? What happened at that moment? Try to remember how you have exercised the concept of free will in your lifetime - as an element of the Soul Group of your country. If you remember and allow yourself a good examination of consciousness, you will realize that at different times in your life you have relinquished your mastery and have given your power away to “others” so that they could become YOUR crutches and take over the responsibilities you didn’t want to accept.

At that time you said: “No, I do not want to be responsible for that. It is too much for me... There are others who know how to do it better. We’ll let them do it. After all, we have always done it that way...” What has happened now? Why are you complaining and moaning about your freedom when you were the one who delegated?

Oh, my dear human, you complain because at this point in your life you realize that the concept of freedom you used to have is not even close to the one you have now. During your journey, your feelings have changed, have evolved, and have aligned with the feelings of others.

Previously, the feeling of all of you as a Soul Group came from the individual ego. You told yourself that you gave your mastery away because there were others who could do it for you. However, you are now realizing that you should not have done it.

I ask you, human being, have you realized how much you have learned during this process and how much information you now have on the subject of freedom, free will and self-worth as a human being and as a member of this geographical Soul Group? Have you taken notice of how much you had to face in order to learn a concept that you thought was “resolved?”

Maybe – we say – this was the most obvious purpose, but other purposes will reveal themselves as time goes by and events and circumstances occur.

Nothing is forever

You know very well that nothing is forever. Nothing lasts eternally. Look at your lives: today your children live with you but tomorrow they will be on their own. Today you have a wife, but perhaps tomorrow she will leave or you may leave her. Today you end a relationship, but tomorrow another one will come. Yesterday you lived in a certain city, today you reside somewhere else. How many times have you changed jobs? How many vehicles have you purchased in your lifetime? How many outfits have you bought and then gave or threw away?

Was everything forever? No, dear human, nothing is forever. Not even your own image reflected in the mirror. Your consciousness is not always the same. Your security is not always the same. Your knowledge is not the same. The passing of time, for you, humans, represents the acquisition of new experiences, reaching a new level of maturity... Not physical maturity, we are talking about evolutionary maturity, the maturity of your consciousness.

The maturity of consciousness

Your consciousness has evolved. You know it. It is not the same it was nine years ago, and so your life is not the same it was nine years ago... Why do we tell you this? Because tomorrow the opposite may happen. What you take for granted today, it may not be so tomorrow, it could be the opposite. What does this depend on? On your own consciousness, on your own concept of self-worth and your own Mastery of Being, dear master.

As masters, you are responsible not only for your own life but for the life of others. Many rely on each one of you. And just as your family relies on you, your employees and pets also rely on you... the group consciousness of this geographical area rely on each one of you. If you change your own consciousness, it won't be long before the consciousness of this Soul Group also changes. And why should you change? Because the experiences related to free will and the search for freedom will take root in your being and will give you a new maturity that will allow you to realize what you can become as individuals and members of this Soul Group.

The power of attraction

We said to you on one occasion: that which you are today in your life, is what you deserve. At this moment, dear human, you have a leader steering your destinies. Why do you have this leader? You already know: you chose him. That leader is here in answer to the desires of the collective.

Dear, you seem to believe that the events taking place before your eyes are actually a reflection of the facts. Oh, we advise that you try to see beyond that, because there is a higher purpose beyond the appearances.

That higher purpose has something to do with this Soul Group and with the fact that you chose "someone" to teach you "something." How you receive these teachings is entirely up to you, since you chose the degree of intensity.

The outcry emerging from your Geographic area was the need for a leader that would steer the destiny of this Soul Group, someone "different" that would tear down the old paradigms, someone who was unlike those who in the past governed your destinies. Is this not what you asked for?

Dear, you must be mindful of what you think and what you say! We have said it many times through the repetition of the concepts of co-creation, the power of intention and the law of attraction. However, regardless of how repetitive this may sound, these concepts reflect what you are now experiencing. You chose "someone" because your Soul Group asked for it. What you have is what you attracted and magnetized...

Why? Once again: because you had already seen one side of the experience, you needed to see the other. Is it interesting to be able to view both sides? Of course! It was necessary, your view would have been one-sided and you would have had only one of the experiences and not the range of possible experiences.

You are blessed. Spirit blesses you and loves you for taking on an intense experience. For this you are blessed because, at an evolutionary level, you had the courage to choose something that will enhance you as society.

Remember: nothing is forever. Everything changes. What will it take for the current situation to change? That depends on whether you know what kind of freedom you want for yourself, and whether you know that kind of leadership you wish to have, whether you chose the kind of leader you need... or decide to keep what you have.

Would this leader magically appear? No, absolutely not. It will not happen that way. You are the ones who will create and attract it to your lives. How will he "appear?" Oh, this leader will generate from the exercise of your own personal experience, first as individuals and then as a society.

How is your leadership?

How do you practice leadership in your lives? Do you know how to be a good leader? Do you know how to lead? Are you just and impartial when you lead? Do you avoid being domineering, intolerant, tyrannical, and egomaniacal? Do you do everything to avoid it? Do you adequately practice leadership in your lives, with your families, loved ones, employees and friends? How is your leadership?

"Kryon, what a question! We have to live our lives and, at determined moments, we have to exercise our authority over others."

Yes, dear, we know this, but, how do you exercise your leadership? Therein lies the difference... because in the manner you lead you will attract those who will want to lead you in the same way. You will magnetically attract them by the wonderful power of co-creation that you are now beginning to develop, which - we said it many times - grows stronger every day. Wish, human, wish and your wishes will be quickly fulfilled...by you, because that is what you have attracted.

The desire for change

Let's pick up where we left off. If you practice leadership in a certain way, what will you magnetically attract? You will attract similar leaders to your life. In the same way you lead, you will be led and your destiny will be controlled. Have you ever thought about this? Have you thought about the change you desire, the need for "this" to change?

You wish for "this" to change... because the human being always wants change, because he is never satisfied with what he has. However, is good to want to have new experiences.

Dear, if this is what you want, if you desire change, how will you attract it? Attract it by your own example. Lead the same way you wish others to lead you, this is how you will attract a balanced share of leadership to your life. It's that simple.

How will you manage to attract this new model of leadership to your lives? We can't tell you that, because tomorrow is flexible, it's mutable and it depends entirely on you, dear human. It depends on who you are today. It depends on where your attention is focused. What you sow "today" you will reap "tomorrow." Each day of your life is a planting day, because what you plant "today" in your life, you will harvest "tomorrow."

When is "tomorrow?" Oh, "tomorrow is not the chronological tomorrow that you may imagine. Neither is the tomorrow of a few years from now. That is not what we are talking about. The tomorrow we are referring to is the potential that awaits moment to moment, expression to expression, dimension to dimension, projection to projection... where you will continue to be you, where you will regain your human essence each time to come practice everything you learned in the past. When you return and reclaim your power, how will you do it? You will do it based on the seed you planted "yesterday."

Dreaming of the New Earth

So, is this an individual issue? No, this is a collective issue. This is an issue of the Soul Group. And you, yes, you and you... (pointing to the audience), if each one of will you sow today what you want to reap tomorrow... oh, dear human, what a wonderful New Earth we will have! and not just here, in this geographical area... The New Earth represents the kind of planet you wish to inhabit, that world you dream about every night.

Maybe you spend some time reflecting on this at night. "Oh, how I would love to live in a non-violent world, a world of peace and good will, a world with economic stability where there are no more wars and where everyone is happy..."

A New Paradigm after the year 2000

Dear human, that is where you are headed... don't doubt it. Let us remind you that the paradigm of humanity changed after the year 2000, which was connected - for 1000 years - to the numerological essence of the number 1, which represented the masculine archetype of individuality. After the year 2000, the issues of individuality and exercise of leadership by force and opposition began to be a thing of the past. A different paradigm began to emerge after the year 2000: one of cooperation, unity, association and strategic relationships. Do not be surprised if you see a surge in projects that require cooperation at an international level, much more ambitious than those we've had so far (such as the European Union).

We won't go beyond this. Let's wait and see what happens in your geographic area and try to adopt a more balanced vision. Here in your country, your leader is searching – by one way or another – the union of the different positions and standpoints in the entire continent. Dear one, this is not negative. Putting aside the ideological issue - which we will not touch upon here because Kryon does not discuss politics, nor do we criticize or judge - we celebrate "the intension" because there is where we find the seed of the new humanity and the potential of the New Earth.

Just because such intention has been generated does not mean that the road towards the concretization of this negotiation is the one your Country is now traversing. There will be many roads, many possibilities will emerge and changes will be put into motion... however, you should not disregard the basic intention that is none other than unification.

Here, among yourselves, there are masters that one day will be able to have an advantageous or key position in your society. Perhaps some of your children or even your grandchildren will one day occupy a key position in your community. And they will be able to understand better than you do the concept of strategic unification and the concept of cooperation. Steps will be taken to unite humanity, to band it together, to get it to join forces, to cooperate with one another, to integrate, to understand and respect.

Let's take a look at what is happening in your lives right now - at the level of Soul Group - it's like a prelude, a preamble. You know very well that beginnings are hardly ever easy; they are characterized by experimentation so that we can learn something new. In fact, you, humans, are always experimenting with what you desire... you learn it, practice it and master it.

The seed of change

Try to see "this" which is happening right now as a preamble to change, that results from learning something new. Understand that this is a beautiful, profound, powerful and inspirational lesson for you as a Soul Group or as humanity with roots in this geographical area.

Don't be deceived by appearances. The change you wish - if aligned with the wishes of the majority - will happen. How, when and what kind of change will it be? We cannot tell you because you, as a Soul Group, will decide on the details.

Kryon will advance you something... just a little advance. Next year (2008) could be very important for your geographic area and for your Soul Group. For your Country, it will be a sort of a transitional year. Transitional years usually generate a strong energy of readjustment and re-balancing. When something needs readjustment, it is necessary to re-arrange it, and that re-arrangement usually brings chaos first so that order can return later.

We can say that next year it's a year of re-arrangement of energies for your country, with a potential related to the restructuration of old patterns and the establishing of new patterns. Pay attention: the potentials are very interesting, but, we emphasize that they are only an outline of the occurrences, because the development of these events will be chosen by the consciousness of your Soul Group, through the global intention and through all the tools you have acquired through all these years and which will lead you to the desired outcome.

Do not be afraid. There is nothing to be afraid of. There is nothing to worry about. It is simply about opening to the experience that awaits you.

Now, Kryon wants to touch on another recurring subject during all these years of family reunions. It is the subject of healing. Our spokesman has already said (before the channelling session) that a human attending one of these meetings has come not only to meet with his spiritual family but also to undergo a process of healing that he has contracted for through this Higher Self and through the group of humans here present.

It's time for healing

Whenever healing takes place in an environment such as this, the healing of the human begins with the collective, it begins with the soul, at the highest vibratory level where the divine essence, the angelical essence resides. That is where the greatest healing is taking place right now. From this point, healing moves to different levels or different dimensions.

You are like pieces of a puzzle where each one of you, as interdimensional beings, holds the face of oneness. In short, you are only one of the many parts. There is more than one counterpart. There are many counterparts, and, incredible as this may sound, dear human, when you heal one part, all the counterparts benefit from this healing process.

So, we first would like to ask you to become aware that each time you heal a process - either spiritual or emotional - you are planting the seed of healing in your past, in your present and your potential futures. However, past, present and future do not exist as you know it. It's all happening at the same time, therefore, in this same instant, you are healing your past, your present and your probable futures.

So, dear human, first connect with the need to heal the whole process that brought you here. You came here following a process. You are here because of this process and, therefore, it is not a coincidence that you are here now experiencing what is happening.

Connect with the fact that what is happening right now is part of the process where mysteriously, magically and spiritually a healing occurs that completely changes all your past and future experiences!

... It all begins and ends in the emotional plane

Heal your emotions! You didn't come here to connect only with your spiritual side, you also came here to connect with your emotional side. Remember the visualization and meditation we did at the beginning of this event? Do you remember what it was about? About opening your heart, filling it with light and taking that light where you can or where is needed!

You are responsible for bringing love to your life, and not only inside yourself but also to project it outwards. Project it. Feel as that sphere of golden white light explodes with joy in your own heart! Feel it bathing all your processes! Feel as all these processes - dark or light - are bathe in this bright, magnificent light that will wipe out any doubts that you are now different and will walk out of here a different person.

Tonight, take this light with you; go back with the knowledge that something important has taken place at different levels. You don't know exactly what happened... but it did happen! Did you feel it?

"OH, Kryon, what about my physical healing? I want to be healed. There is something in me that needs healing. Kryon, can you help?"

No, dear human, I won't help you... because you don't need my help. You are healed. There is nothing to heal in your physical body. Your body is a perfect machine that obeys your wishes, and your greatest wish is to be healthy... because you are already healthy!

Erase the word "worry" from your vocabulary. You don't need to worry about what already IS. You don't have to worry for what IS NOT either. You are healthy! Therefore, visualize yourself - in your normal and regular processes - as a healthy person. What you are complaining about, you don't have, is not there! Look at yourself: you are perfect, you are a part of God, you are unique. The whole world, the whole experience is counting on you. So, how does the world need you to be in order for the experience to happen? Healthy!

Remember that everyone - including us - has the power to create what he wants in his life. This is called "The Power of Creation." We - and when I say "we" am speaking of us in the spiritual world and us in the physical world, because we are a shared experience that we created ourselves - we are great creators... We are so creative, just look at what we have created! We created it: you, with your wishes and we, here, answering those wishes. What a wonderful power of co-creation!

We have created this experience... and, after doing it so many times, why not create the best experience? Yes! A happy life, a fulfilled life brimming with health and love.

Everything that surrounds you is love. Don't be afraid. Don't be worried. Enjoy this magic moment. Treasure the energy of the now because this energy does not end here: you will take it home.

Tonight, when you close your eyes, you will again connect with your essence and there, in the silence of your thoughts and standing at the threshold, you will slowly recover that memory which made you do what YOU ARE now. We remind you now, but later you will reaffirm it.

What else do you want, human?

We urge you to open your heart and to heal. What else do you want, human? What else can we do for you? We are literally at your feet adoring you for your courage to come here to have this experience. Do you have it? Don't let it go. Remember it, treasure it, and internalize it.

Strong emotions! Our spokesman is deeply moved. The feeling is very strong. Are you all moved? Enjoy it! Emotion is the feeling that will quickly connect you with Spirit and your Family, the spiritual Family that is made up of the bodies here present and more.

Surrounding you, there are countless entities that represent you, they recognize you, they belong to you and they remind you that they are here today to connect with you.

At this moment, Spirit is telling your soul – through all the love and care – to open up your hearts and feel the welcome. You will say your farewells with an open heart. These entities that are your family and that have come here through the opening in the metaphoric veil are embracing you, saying goodbye, but not physically. Their goodbyes are filled with nostalgia but also with joy, because on this special day you have reconnected with your angelical essence, have heard the voice of Spirit and have felt the embrace of the Great Family...

It is time to close the opening. Our committee is now leaving, some are more in a rush than others... but they all are happy, joyful and feeling as realized as their Soul Group, because of the unique experience you had tonight.

The Spiritual Family loves you, The Kryon Group loves you and we can hardly wait for the time when we can have another experience such as this. Know that our leaving is metaphoric; remember that goodbyes do not exist in interdimensionality, because we are always within you.

Kryon blesses you. Good night everyone. Go in peace...
